of the Planning Committee

1 Purpose of report

To consider application 04/04071/FUL, submitted by Festive Hotels Ltd. The application is for: Change of use and conversion of hotel to residential use

It is recommended that this application be GRANTED subject to the conditions in Appendix B.

2 The Site and the Proposal

Site description

The application property is a former townhouse built between 1878-9 and is 3-storey with attic and basement levels. The building is currently used as the annexe to the Rothesay Hotel at 7-9 Rothesay Place, which is also proposed for conversion to residential use.

The building is category B listed (Item No. 1955) and is located within the New Town Conservation Area and World Heritage Site.

Site history

The associated application for listed building consent is determined under delegated powers (04/04071/LBC).

Description of the Proposal

The proposals involve the change of use of this existing hotel annexe to form 4 residential units. No external alterations are proposed. No parking is available on site. The proposals were amended to show an alternative internal arrangement.

3 Officer's Assessment and Recommendations

DETERMINING ISSUES

The determining issues are:

- Do the proposals harm the character or appearance of the conservation area? If they do, there is a strong presumption against the granting of permission;
- Do the proposals preserve the building or its setting or any features of special architectural or historic interest which it possesses? If they do not, there is a presumption against the granting of permission. For the purposes of this issue, "preserve", in relation to a building, means preserve it either in its existing state or subject only to such alterations or extensions as can be carried out without serious detriment to its character;
- Do the proposals comply with the development plan?
- If the proposals do comply with the development plan, are there any compelling reasons for not approving them?
- If the proposals do not comply with the development plan, are there any compelling reasons for approving them?

ASSESSMENT

To address the determining issues, the Committee needs to consider:

- a) Whether the proposed use is acceptable in this location;
- b) Whether the proposals have an adverse impact on the building or its setting;
- c) Whether the proposals have an adverse impact on the character or appearance of the conservation area;
- d) Whether the proposals are detrimental to residential amenity or road safety.

a) The proposed residential use is supported by policy CD 3 (Listed Buildings - Uses) as this will see the restoration of the original use of this former townhouse. Although the proposals will result in the more units being created than was originally designed, the proposals can be undertaken in a manner sympathetic to the character of the historic buildings.

The surrounding area is currently a mix of office and residential accommodation and the proposed residential use will be compatible with these uses and will achieve an acceptable level of amenity.

The proposed sub-division of these properties can be undertaken with no unacceptable loss to architectural or historic character, with adequate amenity for occupiers and, with further provision for residents' parking, will not worsen on-street parking.

The proposed residential use is acceptable in this location.

b) As no external alterations are proposed the change of use will have no adverse impact on the building or its setting.

c) The character of the New Town Conservation Area is described in the Central Edinburgh Local Plan as follows:

"A planned urban concept of European significance, the New Town has an overriding character of Georgian formality. The First New Town, built to James Craig's 1767 plan, has experienced significant redevelopment, while the Second, Third and Fourth New Towns, which were laid out on estates to the north, east and west retain most of their original buildings. Stone built terrace houses and tenements, built to the highest standards, overlook communal private gardens; to the rear are lanes with mews buildings, many of which are now in housing use. The importance of the area therefore lies in the formal plan layout of buildings, streets, mews and gardens and in the quality of the buildings themselves. Many of the New Town's buildings are listed category 'A' of national importance and the area contains some of the city's finest interiors."

With no external alterations proposed the change of use will have no adverse impact on the character or appearance of the conservation area.

d) The proposed residential units will have access to an area of common garden to the rear and with the basement unit having its own private garden, the occupiers will achieve a reasonable level of amenity. The proposed residential use will be compatible with existing uses and will complement the existing residential uses within the immediate area.

The proposals will not be detrimental to residential amenity.

The application property lies within Zone 1 of the Controlled Parking Zone. In the report to the Executive of the Council (November 2004) it was noted that a number of public parking bays are being under-utilised and could be redesignated for other uses. Within Zone 1 the report recommends that a further 114 additional residents' bays are created from a combination of new bays and the conversion of public bays. The report notes that including consultation periods, it is likely to take between 9 and 12 months to make these changes.

With regard to the representations relating to the provision of parking, it is anticipated that the proposed additional residents' parking will alleviate existing parking pressure and, in conjunction with City Car Club provision, will accommodate the proposed residential units.

The proposals will not be detrimental to road safety.

The proposals comply with the development plan and non-statutory policies, have no adverse effect on the character or appearance of the conservation area or the building and its setting, and have no detrimental impact on residential amenity or road safety.

There are no material planning considerations, which outweigh this conclusion.

It is recommended that the Committee approves this application, subject to the applicant entering into the relevant legal agreement and submitting details of cycle parking.

Consultations, Representations and Planning Policy

Consultations

Environmental and Consumer Services

The Environmental Impact of this application would normally warrant consideration by Environmental and Consumer services. Unfortunately, at this time, due to significant increase in this workload, we are unable to provide you with a response.

Transport

No objections, subject to the developer entering into a legal agreement for a contribution to the City Car Club and providing covered cycle parking.

Parking Operations.

Parking Operations were consulted as part of the application (04/04072/FUL) for 7-9 Rothesay Place, and stated that additional residents' bays should be introduced some time during 2005.

Representations

The application was advertised on 3 December 2004.

Five letters of representation were received.
Four residential neighbours objected on the grounds that the proposals would increase traffic pressure and there are insufficient residents' parking spaces.
One letter of comment was received from the West End Community Council, relating to the lack of residential parking in the area.

Full copies of the representations made in respect of this application are available in Group Rooms or can be requested for viewing at the Main Reception, City Chambers, High Street.

Planning Policy

The application property lies within a Mixed Activities Zone of the Central Edinburgh Local Plan.

Relevant Policies:

Policy CD3 (LISTED BUILDINGS - USES) establishes a presumption (with stated qualifications) in favour of retaining a listed building in (or restoring it to) its original use.

Policy CD4 (CONSERVATION AREAS) requires that developments in a conservation area retain all features which contribute to the area's character and appearance.

Policy CD5 (CONSERVATION AREAS - REDEVELOPMENT) sets out the criteria against which new development in conservation areas will be assessed, and seeks to preserve or enhance their character and appearance.

Policy H3 (HOUSING - CONVERSION OF NON-RESIDENTIAL BUILDINGS) encourages, and sets out criteria for assessing, the change of use of suitable non-residential buildings to housing.

Non-statutory guidelines on 'SUB-DIVISION OF LISTED BUILDINGS' supplement local plan conservation and design policies, providing guidance on sub-division with the aim of protecting the character and appearance of listed buildings.

Policy T16 (RESIDENTS' PARKING) supports proposals to increase residents parking, including traffic management measures and (in the controlled parking zone) the conversion of private non-residential parking to residential use.
