What is EdIndex?

EdIndex is a simple way to apply for properties for rent from the Council and Housing Associations/Co-operatives in Edinburgh.

EdIndex is a partnership between the Council and most of the Housing Associations/Cooperatives in the city. This allows you to apply for housing with them by filling in a single application form.

There are currently 18 partner landlords and they are listed at the back of this form. The landlords have 2 different ways of letting their available homes. They do this through Choice Based Lettings or a Group plus Points System.

You must register with EdIndex before you can bid for general or sheltered housing or be offered a property by any of the partner landlords.

Choice Based Letting

Properties are advertised on the website www.keytochoice.co.uk on a Friday at 3.30pm. You can see all the available properties on the website and log-in to bid for a home that is right for you.

Online bids must be placed by 3pm on a Friday. You can also place bids by telephone, by calling the EdIndex Team on 0131 529 5080.

This means that your application and housing needs are assessed using a different set of rules. When a property becomes available for rent, the individual landlords will contact you directly if you are at the top of their short list. Offers of housing will depend on where you are placed on the short list, your needs, the type of property and area you have selected, and the availability of empty properties for rent

About the Application Form

If you need help to complete this form, please contact one of the landlords listed at the back of this application form. Please mark all boxes with a tick (\checkmark). You must use a pen, write in capital letters and complete the form in full.

You can apply to EdIndex for housing if you are 16 years or older. Please note, if you have come to Edinburgh from abroad it is possible that you might not be able to get Council housing. Please call 0131 529 5080 if you would like more information.

Information from your application form will be placed on a register of applicants. All the partner landlords will have access to this. If you are eligible for housing with the partner landlords, your application will be assessed according to each landlord's allocation rules.

Confidentiality

The in	formation you provide to Edindex will be used to:
	Decide if you are eligible for housing with the partner landlords
	Assess your housing needs and current housing circumstances
	Enable the partner landlords to match your needs and preferences with available empty homes
	Enable partner landlords to decide if a particular empty home will be offered to you
	Enable monitoring and provide statistical information as required
	Refer you for any housing or services that might meet your needs – we may contact you to discuss this.
	Investigate and consider appropriate action with regard to antisocial behaviour; this information may be shared with the City of Edinburgh Council's Community Safety Teams.
	Consider qualifying occupiers, succession rights and investigation of tenancy matters

The City of Edinburgh Council manages EdIndex on behalf of all the partner landlords. To provide services to you we need to collect your personal data. The City of Edinburgh Council's Privacy Notice explains how we do this and why. The Privacy Notice is available on the Council's website at www.edinburgh.gov.uk or if you would like a hard copy, please contact the team by sending an email to edindex@edinburgh.gov.uk, or call us on 0131 529 5080. We have a duty to comply with the Housing (Scotland) Act and other similar legislation, which places obligations on the Council to process your data. This means that we may share information provided to us through EdIndex with other organisations and authorities. In line with the General Data Protection Regulation 2018, we will only share your information when it is legal and reasonable to do so.
