Part I – Planning Fees

Scope of guidance

Planning fees are set by the Scottish Government. The relevant legislation is The Town and Country Planning \(Fees for Applications\) \(Scotland\) Amendment Regulations 2026 which came in to effect on 1st April 2026. These Regulations amend the Town and Country Planning (Fees for Applications) (Scotland) Regulations 2022. Further guidance is available in Scottish Government Planning Circular 1/2026.

Discretionary Charging – Reduced Fees

Regulation 5 of the Town and Country Planning (Fees for Applications) (Scotland) Regulations 2022 provides local authorities with the discretionary power to reduce fees in the following circumstances:

- Where the application relates to development which, in the opinion of the planning authority, has the primary purpose of contributing to a not for profit enterprise or a social enterprise, AND
- Where the application relates to development which, in the opinion of the planning authority, is likely to contribute to improving the health of residents in the area to which the application relates.

Applications must meet both the above criteria to be considered for an exemption.

Edinburgh Council will reduce the required fee by 25%. The amount levied will depend on the type of application. For example, a £371 fee would be reduced to £278.25. The full statutory fee should be paid when the application is submitted. The Council will make a decision on receipt of an application as to whether a 25% reduction is applicable and will refund the applicant accordingly.

Prospective applicants should make clear in their supporting information if they are seeking a reduction in the application fee. Clear justification should be given for why the applicant believes that a reduction in the fee is applicable.

The statutory definition of what constitutes a ‘not for profit’ enterprise is set out within the Town and Country Planning (Scotland) Act 1997 (as amended) as follows:

- “not for profit enterprise” means an organisation which a person might reasonably consider to exist wholly or mainly to provide benefits for society,
- “social enterprise” means an organisation whose activities are wholly or mainly activities which a person might reasonably consider to be activities carried on for the benefit of society (“its social objects”), and which -
 - generates most of its income through business or trade,

- reinvests most of its profits in its social objects,
- is independent of any public authority, and
- is owned, controlled and managed in a way that is consistent with its social objects

If prospective applicants are of the opinion that their organisation meets the above criteria to be considered a not for profit or social enterprise, they should provide a supporting statement outlining why. Any statement should clearly cover the criteria described above. Supporting evidence should also be supplied.

There is no statutory definition of a proposal which is 'improving the health of residents'. Prospective applicants should provide supporting information with any application detailing why they are of the opinion that that their proposal will improve the health of residents in the local area.

If a required fee is not paid, the application will not be progressed to determination.

Discretionary Charging - Surcharges

Regulation 6 of the Town and Country Planning (Fees for Applications) (Scotland) Regulations 2022 provides the planning authority with the power to levy a surcharge of up to 25% on retrospective applications.

A retrospective application is an application for planning permission for a development which has already commenced or has been completed without the benefit of a grant of planning permission. Retrospective applications often result from Enforcement enquiries but can also be the result of other factors. A surcharge on retrospective applications is intended primarily to provide a means of recovering the costs of undertaking enforcement investigations.

Edinburgh Council will be imposing the maximum 25% surcharge allowed by the regulations. The amount levied will depend on the type of application. For example, a householder application involving a retrospective application for a summerhouse, section of decking or installation of windows would attract a surcharge of £92.75. This is 25% of the normal application fee of £371.

If you are submitting a retrospective application it is important that you highlight this at the time of submission. The surcharge will not be calculated when an application is submitted on e-planning. This is because e-planning is a national service which does not consider individual charges levied by local authorities, and will therefore be requested when your application is registered.

If the required surcharge is not paid, your application will not be progressed to determination.

If a retrospective application relating to an enforcement investigation is not determined due to failure to pay the surcharge, the Planning Service may elect to proceed to formal enforcement action to resolve the matter.

Surcharges for retrospective applications came into force on 1 October 2022.

Payment of fees

An application is not valid, and the Council will not start considering it until the full application fee has been paid. Once an application is valid, an acknowledgment letter will be issued which acts as a receipt for the payment of fees.

Calculation of fees

Where a fee is based on floorspace, this means the gross floorspace (all storeys) for the development. It should be measured externally and includes the thickness of external and internal walls. It excludes areas which are not readily usable by people or animals eg. liftshafts, tanks, loft space.

Where a fee is based on site area, the site of the development should be clearly outlined in red on the drawings.

Where floorspace or site area is not an exact multiple of the unit of measurement provided by the fees scale, the amount remaining is taken as a whole unit.

Where a building is to be demolished and a new building is to be erected on the site, the fee is based on the floor area of the new building.

'Dwellinghouse' means a building, or part of a building, which is used as a single private dwelling house and for no other purpose.

Valid applications made on or after 1 April 2022 and before 12 December 2024 will be subject to the 2022 regulations. For AMC applications predominantly involving the change of use of an area of land, or the development of non-residential floorspace, the fee will be capped at £150,000. Please refer here for more details.

Valid applications made on or after 12 December 2024 and before 9 June 2025 will be subject to the 2024 regulations. For AMC applications predominantly involving the change of use of an area of land, or the development of non-residential floorspace, the fee will be capped at £172,856. Please refer here for more details.

Valid applications made on or after 9 June 2025 and before 1 April 2026 will be subject to the 2025 regulations. For AMC applications predominantly involving the change of use of an area of land, or the development of non-residential floorspace, the fee will be capped at £178,560. Please refer here for more details.

The fee for a development which is on land situated in more than one planning authority is the lesser of the following: the total fee payable in respect of all the applications is the lesser of -

- a. one and a half times the amount of the fee which would have been payable for an application in respect of the same development but lying in the area of a single planning authority, OR

b. the sum of the amounts of the fees which would have been payable in respect of all the applications.

Where an application relates to two or more categories, an amount is to be calculated for each category of development and then only the highest of the amounts calculated under those categories is the fee charged.

All amounts include VAT where appropriate.

Fees - Detailed planning permission and approval of matters specified in conditions

The following applies to applications for –

- Detailed planning permission
- Approval of matters specified in conditions

Mixed use developments

Where a development is partly within category 1 and partly within category 4 of table 1 the fee payable is the sum of—

- a. the amount calculated and payable for the amount of gross floor space which is to be created by that part of the development which is within category 4 (“the non-residential floor space”), and
- b. the amount payable in respect of that part of the development which is within category 1.

Where any of the buildings is to contain floor space for the purposes of providing common access or common services or facilities for persons occupying or using that building for residential purposes, and for persons occupying or using that building for non-residential purposes (“common floor space”), the amount of non-residential floor space is to be assessed in relation to that building as including such proportion of the common floor space as the amount of non-residential floor space in the building bears to the total amount of gross floor space in the building.

Where an application to which this applies relates to development which is also within one or more of any other categories of table 1, an amount is to be calculated in accordance with each such category and if any of the amounts so calculated exceeds the amount calculated as above, that higher amount is the fee payable in respect of all of the development to which the application relates.

Alternative proposals

Where two or more applications for planning permission are made on the same date and by the same applicant and in respect of two or more proposals for the development of the same land, a single fee is calculated and payable in respect of the applications.

Similarly, where two or more applications are made for approval, consent or agreement required by the same condition imposed on a grant of planning permission in principle, and both applications are made on the same date and by the same applicant, a single fee calculated and is payable in respect of the applications.

Calculations are to be made, in accordance with table I of this schedule, of the fee appropriate to each of the applications and the single fee payable in respect of both applications is the sum of -

- a. an amount equal to the highest fee calculated in respect of each of the applications, and
- b. an amount calculated by adding together the fees appropriate to all of the applications, other than the amount referred to in head (a) and dividing that total by 2.

Notes

All applications must be accompanied by the appropriate fee. As noted above, fees will be checked at the point of validation.

The gross floor space created by the development must be clearly indicated in square metres on the application form and the submitted plan. For the purposes of the fee regulations, gross floor space includes all storeys, is measured externally including the thickness of internal and external walls and can include areas under canopies.

The area of the site must be clearly stated in hectares on the application form and the submitted plan.

There is no provision in the regulations for the refund of fees paid to Planning Authorities in respect of applications which have been validated. Invalid or incomplete applications will have fees returned if paid. Any decision to refund an application which has been validated lies solely at the discretion of the planning authority.

Charges for Publications will be payable when the Council has to place a notice in the Newspaper in accordance with regulation 20 of the Town and County Planning (Development Management Procedure) (Scotland) Regulations 2013.

Alternative schemes for the development of the same land. The fee payable equates to the alternative scheme with the highest fee plus a sum equal to half the fees for the other alternative schemes.

Re-submissions following refusal, withdrawal, dismissed appeal no fee in certain circumstances, time limit 12 months from certain dates (including CLE, CLP and PPP).

Revised applications following approval - no fee in certain circumstances, time limit within 12 months. Advertisement applications re-submitted following refusal, withdrawal - no fee in certain circumstances.

Applications for display of advertisements on parking meters, litter bins, bus shelters or public seating benches - the “specified area” is considered to be the “site”.

Part 2 – Local Review Fees

Scope of guidance

Local Review fees are set by the Scottish Government. The relevant legislation is The Town and Country Planning \(Fees for Local Reviews\) \(Scotland\) Regulations 2026, which come in to effective on the 1st April 2026. These Regulations apply to Local Reviews conducted by virtue of section 43A(a) or (b) of the Act where notice of review is given on or after 1st April 2026.

Discretionary Charging – Reduced Fees

Regulation 3 of the Town and Country Planning (Fees for Local Reviews) (Scotland) Regulations 2025 provides local authorities with the discretionary power to reduce fees in the following circumstances:

- where the application for review relates to development which, in the opinion of the planning authority, has the primary purpose of contributing to a not for profit enterprise or a social enterprise, AND
- where the application for review relates to development which, in the opinion of the planning authority, is likely to contribute to improving the health of residents in the area to which the application relates.

Applications for review must meet both the above criteria to be considered for an exemption.

Edinburgh Council will reduce the required fee by 25%. The amount levied will depend on the type of application. For example, a £297 fee would be reduced to £222.75. The full statutory fee should be paid when the application for review is submitted. The Council will make a decision on receipt of an application for review as to whether a 25% reduction is applicable and will refund the applicant accordingly.

Prospective applicants should make clear in their supporting information if they are seeking a reduction in the application for review fee. Clear justification should be given for why the applicant believes that a reduction in the fee is applicable.

The statutory definition of what constitutes a ‘not for profit’ enterprise is set out within the Town and Country Planning (Scotland) Act 1997 (as amended) as follows:

- “not for profit enterprise” means an organisation which a person might reasonably consider to exist wholly or mainly to provide benefits for society,
- “social enterprise” means an organisation whose activities are wholly or mainly activities which a person might reasonably consider to be activities carried on for the benefit of society (“its social objects”), and which—
 - generates most of its income through business or trade,

- reinvests most of its profits in its social objects,
- is independent of any public authority, and
- is owned, controlled and managed in a way that is consistent with its social objects

If prospective applicants are of the opinion that their organisation meets the above criteria to be considered a not for profit or social enterprise, they should provide a supporting statement outlining why. Any statement should clearly cover the criteria described above. Supporting evidence should also be supplied.

There is no statutory definition of a proposal which is ‘improving the health of residents’. Prospective applicants should provide supporting information with any application for review detailing why they are of the opinion that that their proposal will improve the health of residents in the local area.

If a required fee is not paid, the application will not be progressed to review.

Applications where no fee is payable

Means of access etc. for disabled persons

Under Regulation 3 no fee is payable where the local review body is satisfied that the application for review meets either of the following criteria:

- the application relates to the alteration or extension of a dwellinghouse (but not erection of a dwellinghouse), or other operations within the curtilage of a dwellinghouse for the purpose of providing means of access to or within the dwellinghouse for a disabled person who resides or proposes to reside within that dwellinghouse, OR providing facilities designed to secure that person’s greater safety, health or comfort.
- the application relates to the alteration or extension of a dwellinghouse (but not erection of a dwellinghouse), or other operations within the curtilage of a dwellinghouse for the purpose of providing means of access for disabled persons to or within a building or premises to which members of the public have access

The meaning of “disabled person” is defined by section 6 of the Equality Act (2010).

Restrictions on permitted development rights

Under Regulation 3 no fee is payable where the local review body is satisfied that the application for review meets the following criteria:

- the review relates solely to development within one or more of the classes specified in schedule 1 of the General Permitted Development Order, AND the permission granted by article 3 of that Order does not apply in respect of that development because of:
 - a direction made under article 4 of the Order which is in force on the date when the application to which the review relates was made OR
 - the requirements of a condition imposed on a permission granted under Part 3 of the Act otherwise by that Order.

The reference to a review which relates to development which is within one or more of the classes specified in schedule 1 of the General Permitted Development Order includes a review in respect of an application for planning permission for the continuance of a use of land, or the retention of buildings or works, without compliance with a condition subject to which a previous planning permission has been granted, and which prohibits or limits the carrying out of any development which is within one or more of those classes.

Use specified in the Town and Country Planning (Use Classes) (Scotland) 1997

Under Regulation 3 no fee is payable in relation to a review in respect of an application for planning permission where the local review body is satisfied that the application meets the following criteria:

- the application for review relates solely to the use of a building or other land for a purpose of any class specified in the schedule of the Town and Country Planning (Use Classes) (Scotland) Order 1997
- the existing use of that building or other land is for another purpose of the same class AND
- the review is in respect of an application for planning permission for the use to which it relates which is necessary because of a condition imposed on a permission granted under Part 3 of the Act.

Winning and working of minerals

Under Regulation 3 no fee is payable in relation to a review in respect of an application for permission to carry out development consisting of the winning and working of minerals where the application satisfies either of the following conditions:

- the application is for permission which consolidates two or more subsisting permissions OR
- the application does not seek permission for development which is not authorised by a subsisting permission.

Prospective applicants should make clear in their supporting information if they are seeking a waiving of fees. Clear justification should be given for why the applicant believes that a waiving of the fee is applicable.

Payment of fees

An application for a review is not valid, and the Council will not start considering it, until the full application fee has been paid. Appellants must ensure the application for review AND the correct fee is submitted WITHIN three months otherwise the appellant will forfeit their right to appeal. Appellants are advised to submit their application for review well within the three month time period to allow for checking of the validity of their review, including the fee.

Once an application for a review is valid, an acknowledgment letter will be issued which acts as a receipt for the payment of fees.

Calculation of fees

Where a fee is based on floorspace, this means the gross floorspace (all storeys) for the development. It should be measured externally and includes the thickness of external and internal walls. It excludes areas which are not readily usable by people or animals eg. liftshafts, tanks, loft space.

Where a fee is based on site area, the site of the development should be clearly outlined in red on the drawings.

Where floorspace or site area is not an exact multiple of the unit of measurement provided by the fees scale, the amount remaining is taken as a whole unit.

Where a building is to be demolished and a new building is to be erected on the site, the fee is based on the floor area of the new building.

'Dwellinghouse' means a building, or part of a building, which is used as a single private dwelling house and for no other purpose.

Fees – For Reviews

The following tables apply to applications for reviews in respect of an application for –

Table 1:

- planning permission, OR
- approval consent or agreement required by a condition imposed on a grant of planning permission in principle

Table 2:

- planning permission in principle

Alternative applications

Where a review is in respect of an application which relates to development which is within more than one of the categories of development.

- a. an amount is to be calculated in respect of each category of development, and
- b. the highest amount so calculated is the fee payable in respect of the review.

Calculations are to be made, in accordance with table 1 of this schedule.

Mixed use developments

Where a development is partly within category 1 and partly within category 4 of table 1 the fee payable is the sum of—

- a. the amount calculated and payable for the amount of gross floor space which is to be created by that part of the development which is within category 4 (“the non-residential floor space”), and
- b. the amount payable in respect of that part of the development which is within category 1.

Where any of the buildings is to contain floor space for the purposes of providing common access or common services or facilities for persons occupying or using that building for residential purposes, and for persons occupying or using that building for non-residential purposes (“common floor space”), the amount of non-residential floor space is to be assessed in relation to that building as including such proportion of the common floor space as the amount of non-residential floor space in the building bears to the total amount of gross floor space in the building.

Where a review to which this applies relates to development which is also within one or more of any other categories of table

I, an amount is to be calculated in accordance with each such category and if any of the amounts so calculated exceeds the amount calculated as above, that higher amount is the fee payable in respect of all of the development to which the review relates.

Planning permission in principle granted before 1 April 2022

Where a review is carried out in respect of an application for the approval, consent, or agreement required by a condition imposed on a grant of planning permission in principle AND

- the planning permission in principle was granted before 1 April 2022, AND
- the application relates to development within categories 1, 4, 7, 13 or 17 of table

I. The fee payable under Regulation 3 is subject to a maximum of £50,000.

Planning permission in principle granted on or after 1 April 2022 and before 12 December 2024

Where a review is carried out in respect of an application for the approval, consent, or agreement required by a condition imposed on a grant of planning permission in principle AND

- the planning permission in principle was granted on or after 1 April 2022 and before 12 December 2024, AND
- the application relates to development within categories 1, 4, 7, 13 or 17 of table

I. The fee payable under Regulation 3 is subject to a maximum of £60,000.

Planning permission in principle granted on or after 12 December 2024 and before 9th June 2025

Where a review is carried out in respect of an application for the approval, consent, or agreement required by a condition imposed on a grant of planning permission in principle AND

- the planning permission in principle was granted on or after 12 December 2024 and before 9th June 2025, AND
- the application relates to development within categories 1, 4, 7, 13 or 17 of table

I. The fee payable under Regulation 3 is subject to a maximum of £69,142.

Planning permission in principle granted on or after 9 June 2025 and before 1 April 2026

Where a review is carried out in respect of an application for the approval, consent or agreement required by a condition imposed on a grant of permission in principle AND

- the planning permission in principle was granted on or after 9 June 2025 and before 1 April 2026, AND
- the application related to a development within categories 1, 4, 7, 13 or 17 of table 1.

The fee payable under Regulation 3 is subject to a maximum of £71,424.

- a. the fee payable to the planning authority in respect of the current application was the fee payable in terms of paragraph 10(3) of schedule 1 of the Town and Country Planning (Fees for Applications)(Scotland) Regulations 2022.

Notes

All local reviews must be accompanied by the appropriate fee. As noted above, fees will be checked at the point of validation.

The gross floor space created by the development must be clearly indicated in square metres on the application form and the submitted plan. For the purposes of the fee regulations, gross floor space includes all storeys, is measured externally including the thickness of internal and external walls and can include areas under canopies.

The area of the site must be clearly stated in hectares on the application form and the submitted plan.

There is no provision in the regulations for the refund of fees paid to Planning Authorities in respect of local reviews which have been validated. Invalid or incomplete local reviews will have fees returned if paid. Any decision to refund a local review which has been validated lies solely at the discretion of the planning authority.
