

Highest qualifications in Edinburgh

The number of people over 16 who do not have any qualifications has decreased by 7.5% (23,733 people) from 2011 in Edinburgh and is now fewer than 43k people.

Highest qualifications by age and ward

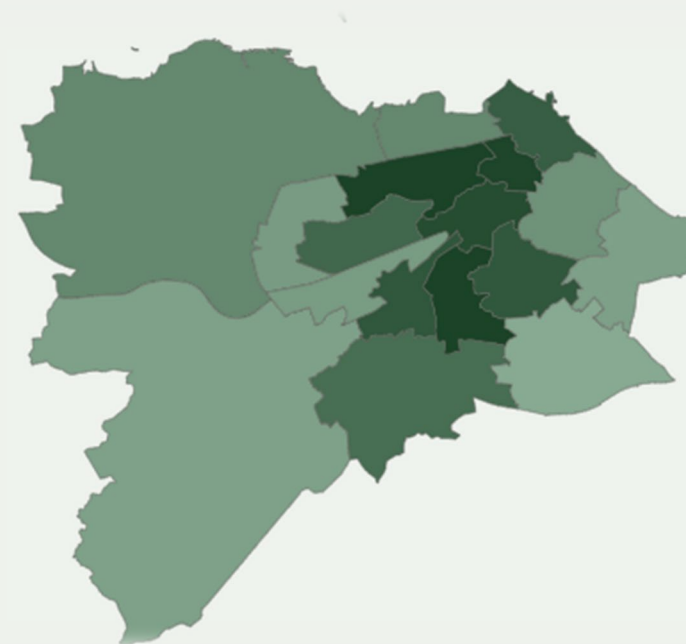

People whose highest level of qualification is apprenticeship are becoming less common while more than three quarters of people aged 25-34 have reached a level higher than further education.

of people over 16 in Scotland have further education, degree or above.

of people over 16 in Edinburgh have further education, degree or above.

The highest qualification reached by over 60% of the population in both Morningside and Inverleith is degree or above.

Less than 40% of the population in Liberton/ Gilmerton have completed a qualification of degree or above.

Distribution of economic activity

64%* of the population over 16 years old in Edinburgh are economically active. 83% of them are employees. Over half of the inactive population are retired.

The percentage uses as base all population over 16, not only the working age population.*

Almost 10% of the active population in Edinburgh in 2022 were full time students. In 2011 the percentage was under 8%

Full time vs Part time employees

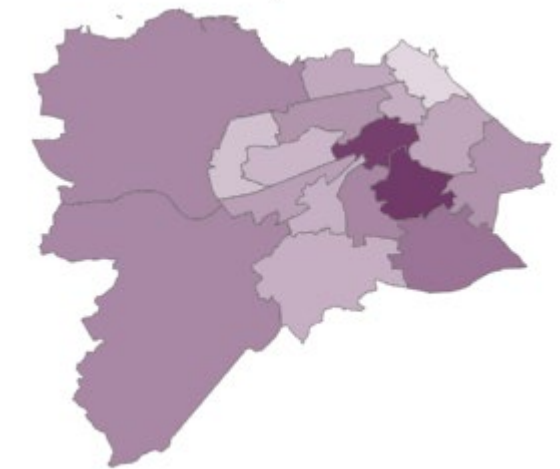

73% of employees and 61% of self-employed people work full time

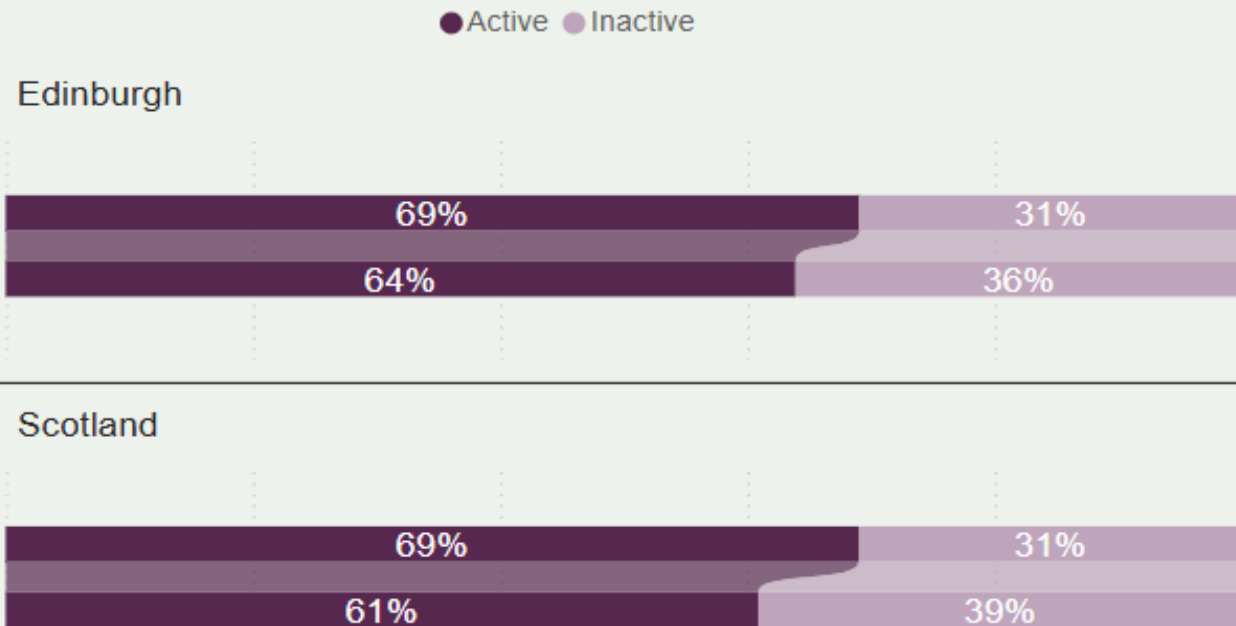

27% of employees and 39% of self-employed people work part time

Economic activity by ward

The wards with the highest number of retired people are Almond and Liberton/ Gilmerton, both with over 6,500 people in retirement.

Southside/ Newington (15.3k) and City Centre (14.7k) are the wards with the highest number of inactive population.

The sector with the highest number of employees in Edinburgh in 2022 is the Human Health and Social Work sector (13%)

*The percentage uses as base all population over 16, not only the working age population, and the industry is self-determined by the individuals filling the census.

Around 30% of the population of Edinburgh work in professional occupations*, almost 10% more than the Scottish percentage.

a job that requires a degree or equivalent qualification, sometimes further training or experience

Just over 9% of the population over 16 work less than 15 hours (8% in Scotland)

Nearly 20% work between 16 and 30 hours (20% in Scotland)

63% work between 31 and 48 hours (62% in Scotland)

Just over 8% work 49 hours or more (10% in Scotland)

There are almost 4,000 people over 65 that are still working over 30 hours in Edinburgh

2% fewer people than in 2011 work over 49 hours

The number of people working mainly from home, working abroad or who do not have a fixed location (Other) are the groups that have increased the most from 2011 in Edinburgh.

Distance to work by ward

Over 97k people said in the census survey that they work mainly from home. Of those, 8.5k live in Leith Walk ward (8.6%)

Just over 9.4k people answered that they work more than 20km away from home. Of those, 872 live in Almond ward (9.3%)

Active population by their distance to work

Legend:

- Distance to work 2km or less
- Distance to work between 2km and 10km
- Distance to work over 10km
- Other: work abroad or do not have a fixed location
- Works mainly from home

Methods of travel to work and proportion by age

