

Trams to Newhaven

Project Newsletter: 12 June 2020

The Trams to Newhaven project is scheduled to be completed and carrying passengers by Spring 2023.

This edition advises on the start of main construction works for the Trams to Newhaven project.

Main works to re-start

Construction site preparation works for the Edinburgh's Trams to Newhaven project are progressing well following the Scottish Government's announcement of a phased return for construction sites.

The Scottish Government has now given the go-ahead for construction sites to move to Phase 2 - Soft start to site works where physical distancing can be maintained.

This means that construction works on the existing sites on Lindsay Road, Melrose Drive and Constitution Street will start from Monday 15 June 2020 and that main construction works on Leith Walk from Elm Row to Crown Place will start on Monday 22 June 2020. Traffic management for Leith Walk will be installed from the evening of Friday 19 June 2020 and will be operational from 5.00am on Saturday 20 June 2020. This will result in Leith Walk being reduced to one lane city-bound.

All work is being carried out in accordance with Scottish Government guidance.
